RICHMOND TO BE SECOND MOLASSES PORT

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Monday is a busy day along Macdonald avenue. But along with the business there is some leisure.

At Seventh street and Macdonald avenue, Clare Horner parks his green car, calls out a wise crack and walks into his office.

A few minutes later, Constable James Smiley drives up in his sedan, grins and nods, and goes up to the justice court.

George Lee stands at the entrance of the Pillow building, talking with someone.

Over across the street, a taxi-cab driver nods in his seat, to be aroused by the clangor of a bell.

A crowd of "kids" cluster around the entrance of the Fox California theater, arguing, talking and boasting—waiting for the doors to open.

From Alberts' open doors come the sounds of busy activities, and a low, subtle, pleasant smell that one associates with a department store.

Inside of a chain store the turnstile clicks merrily.

Someone walks hurriedly in out of the sun into the cool interior of Clint Smith's clothing store.

Four boys, two of them with dirty faces, emerge from Martin's, eating chocolate ice cream cones.

LINDEMANN TO REMAIN IN CITY

An outstanding development of the Methodist Episcopal church conference in San Francisco the past week, was the transfer of Rev. F. H. Prince of the First Methodist church in Richmond, to the Community Methodist church in Albany. His post will be filled by Rev. R. L. Ruth of Ohio.

Rev. C. G. Lindemann was returned to the Wesley Methodist church for his seventh successive term.

Another development of the conference was the transfer of Rev. J. R. Rudkin, of Pinole, to Redwood City. His pulpit will be filled by Rev. Carl Smith of Sacramento.

The conference has been in session since last Tuesday, and was attended daily by approximately 600 ministers and lay delegates. An unofficial attendance of 3000 attended the Sunday services at the Temple M. E. church, San Francisco where the conference was held.

The conference was declared one of the most successful ever held in this area, and a large gain in church membership was shown at the conclave.

Bishop Charles Wesley Burns presided at the meetings, and delegates from all northern California and western Nevada were present.

New Pastor

Rev. Ruth, who is to fill the First M. E. pulpit, comes to Richmond with an enviable record.

For the past year and a half, he has been in charge of the West Berkeley Methodist church, while attending the Pacific school of Religion in Berkeley. He was graduated with his M. S. T. degree this spring. Prior to his coming to the west, Rev. Ruth filled an Ohio pulpit. He was given his A. B. degree at the Asbury college of Kentucky.

Rev. Prince who will leave his congregation this week, has been a Richmond minister a number of years, and has been identified with the rapid growth of the First Methodist church. He has formed hundreds of friends in Richmond who will mourn his leaving. He has been noted for his inspirational sermons and eulogies.

Rev. Lindemann's many friends will rejoice in his return to the Wesley congregation where he has proved a veritable inspiration to the church members. His re-appointment marks the seventh year with the Wesley church.

Southern Pacific engineers and City Engineer E. A. Hoffman are on the ground laying out the track.

NEW TANK TO BE BUILT HERE

More than 300,000 tons of molasses will be distributed from the Point San Pablo terminal of the Pacific Molasses company this year thus making Richmond the second molasses port of the United States.

The port of New Orleans alone will exceed the city of Richmond in the number of tons of molasses handled, it was stated.

At the present time more than 54,000,000 pounds of the "black strap" molasses are stored in the five big tanks at Point San Pablo.

Many Steamers

Every five days an ocean liner, either of the Matson line or of a British steamship line arrives in Richmond from Hawaii or the Philippines to discharge a huge cargo of the syrup.

It was unofficially announced that the molasses company is planning the construction of a huge new tank at Point San Pablo, a tank that will be used to store more than 13,000 tons of molasses.

The crew of the Philippine Red Line company is handling the storage of molasses here.

Cattle Food

When the molasses arrives here by steamer it is pumped by pipeline from the boats to the storage tanks. It is then pumped into barges which are sent to neighboring cities.

Hundreds of tank cars are filled with the black cargo, to be sent to the middle-west where it is used for cattle food.

The "blackstrap" is also used for the manufacture of industrial alcohol and cattle food.

The Pacific Molasses company is a subsidiary of the United Molasses company, a British concern.

THE WILL TO WIN

The habit of saving money and regularly putting it in the bank yields more than a pile of dollars. It gives us the will to win. It teaches us to value the time and thought and energy we had to expend to earn the money. It puts plan and purpose into our lives, increases endeavor and assures success. It gives us confidence. And in these days of keen competition it takes ability and courage and confidence to win. The man who is worried and fretted hasn't a chance.

Savings are safe in the bank.

There is no substitute.

Announcement of the completed plans was made today on behalf of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his colleagues by John R. Todd, head of the engineering corporation that will translate the designs of architects into towering steel and stone.

ELSIE KERLIN, EDWARD GROW, WED SUNDAY

Miss Elsie Kerlin became the bride of Edward F. Grow Sunday afternoon at the Trinity Lutheran church, at one of the most beautiful of June weddings.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Herman Kerlin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. W. Koehler in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Masses of flowers filled the church, and the aisle leading to the altar was lined with festoons of white ribbons caught at intervals with white flowers. The background of the altar was beautifully formed of ferns, palms and pink gladiolus.

The bride wore a gown of shimmering white satin, fashioned in the new slim lines, with flared skirt. The bodice was of beautiful rose point lace. A long tulle veil was caught into a head-dress of pearls and orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was composed of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Margaret Young, her only attendant, wore a frock of pale blue chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

William Finnigan served as best man, and Harry Kerlin, a brother of the bride, was usher. A reception followed the ceremony at the Kerlin home and was one of the most beautiful of the season. Masses of pink and white flowers artistically decorated the home and at the dinner, the bride ceremoniously cut the cake in the presence of the fifty-two guests.

The couple left immediately on their honeymoon trip to southern California. Returning by way of Yosemite valley, they will visit a sister of the Grow's who reside near there.

Upon their return, they will receive their friends at 318 Fourteenth street.

J. P. Strom passes down the street, driving a new Oakland eight—and, as usual, smoking his cigar. J. P. wouldn't be J. P. if he didn't wear a cigar.

Les Thomas and two of his salesmen are talking together—probably holding some kind of a conference.

At Sixteenth street, a street car clatters up with enough noise to wake the dead.

From the front end of the car, two boys get out. An elderly lady alights from the back end, hesitates for a few seconds and then finally decides that it is safe to walk the five steps to the sidewalk.

Two women in a Dodge sedan drive down Macdonald avenue. The driver is evidently telling her companion just how much trouble Junior has to keep his tonsil, and she misses three or four cars, a dog and a pedestrian by slight margins.

Walking through the subway are a mother and her son—both eating ice cream cones.

In front of a cigar store between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets, two elderly men are showing two small boys the art of spinning tops.

The white masonry in the front of the Telephone Exchange seems to reflect the heat many times magnified.

Standing at the corner is an old Studebaker sedan with a whitecloth tied over one headlamp—giving the car a piratical appearance.

That vacant hotel building looks haunted and forlorn.

And A. C. Coster stands beside a pump at his service station, holding a new tire in his hand, talking to a customer.

A few minutes later A. C. stands alone, with a bill in his hand and the customer is walking away, rolling the tire to his parked car.

941 Thirty-second street had a their guests over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baldwin, of Berkeley.

Tonight At 12 Will Be Shown At Richmond

"Tonight at Twelve" Universal's sensational and daring all-talking screen production of Owen Davis' famous stage play, will open tonight at the Richmond theater.

The picture which was directed by Harry Pollard, who directed "Show Boat" has an all-star cast worthy of that name—Madge Bellamy, Robert Ellis, Margaret Livingston, Vera Reynolds, Norman Trevor, Hallam Cooley, Mary Dorn, George Lewis, Madeline Seymour, Josephine Brown and Don Douglas.

While being classified as a mystery-farce, "Tonight at Twelve" has a different sort of effect. Its punch is in its daring dialogue and its open treatment of a story dealing with husbands and wives who cheat a little too much for safety.

A jealous wife finds a note which she believes is her husband's signal for a rendezvous with another woman. She accuses one of three women—all married and her intimate friends—of being that woman. Interwoven into the turmoil that this causes is the destiny of a young boy and his sweetheart—the son and daughter of two of the involved couples.

The plot is worked out in an unusual manner with the outcome always a problem. Director Pollard went the limit in following the dialogue of Davis' stage play which brought a grasp from even the sophisticated Broadway, but he never overstepped the bounds of common decency.

HARRISON IN ATTACK ON HOOVER

WASHINGTON, June 16.—UP—Looking toward the November elections, a tariff backfire was started by Democrats today.

In the senate, Harrison, Miss., charged President Hoover with deceit in the White House statement announcing the President's intention to sign the bill.

Reading reports of today's stock market break, Harrison asserted that the President himself had brought on this disturbance by asking for tariff revision "and added to it by refusing to tell Congress what he wanted."

Commenting on the President's mention of log-rolling in congressional tariff making, Chairman House of the Democratic national executive committee replied in a statement that the log-rolling vote swapping was embodied in the administration's own trading in getting enough votes to pass the bill.

The measure itself, a big tariff volume tied with red tape was signed by vice-president Curtis and sent swiftly to the White House and referred immediately to the treasury for a final reading for errors. Mr. Hoover will sign it probably tomorrow in the presence of Chairman Hawley and Smoot of the tariff-making committees and other leaders in the 18 month battle over the measure.

Smoot, after a half hour call at the White House this evening, said the tariff had no relation to the stock market action, which he regarded as a not unusual fluctuation, possibly caused by trading. He said the bill would have a splendid effect on business and on the farmers, who would realize it when harvest time came around. He said he discussed a local Utah matter, the tariff, with President Hoover.

NINE ESCAPED PRISONERS HUNTED

FRESNO, June 16.—UP—Believed to have obtained a stolen automobile, nine felons who broke out of the county jail early today were still at large toward evening.

The escaped men gained their liberty by obtaining duplicate keys to three sets of cell doors, and by breaking a hole through an 18-inch brick wall and sliding to the ground two stories below by means of a fire hose.

Those who escaped were Frank R. Facker, F. C. Heriot, Charles Isbell, Lee Tretmez, an Indian, George Miller, H. M. Breaks, Alex Weckesser, Anthony Satoro, a Mexican and William Edwards.

Two prisoners refused to escape.

Search for the nine men was statewide in scope, with a special highway patrol keeping vigilant watch to prevent the convicts from making good their bold effort to obtain freedom.

Sheriff W. F. Jones stated his belief that the men had obtained aid from accomplices outside the jail in obtaining the tools or duplicate keys to pry open the cell locks.

The break was discovered by a jailer on duty in another part of the building, and the alarm was sounded.

A search of the town and surrounding country provided no clues as to the escaped men's whereabouts.

All those who escaped were accused of burglary, forgery, or statutory crimes.

LIGHT GROUP OPENS S. F. CONCLAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—UP—The civic center here was jammed with more than 4000 delegates to the National Electric Light association's fifty-third annual convention and residents of San Francisco tonight as powerful colored searchlights valued at more than $500,000 were turned on.

The spectacle was one of the most impressive ever arranged, city and state buildings being showered with every color of the rainbow and beams of light being thrown into the sky until they disappeared into a fog. One light alone was the equivalent of 6000 ordinary house bulbs.

The first general session of the convention, which will last until Friday, will be held Tuesday morning.

There was a reception tonight for the president, Matthew S. Sloan of the New York Edison company. As his party approached the municipal auditorium an airplane roared overhead. Sound waves from a siren on its wing automatically set off a sensitive device that threw the switch for the mammoth illumination.

In an interview Sloan gave one of the keynotes for the convention. He denounced sectionalism in the United States.

"We hear much of the 'industrial east' and the 'agricultural west,' when as a matter of fact, we are all tied together, interdependent—each prospering as the other prospers."

"Meetings such as this, where 4000 men from every state get together for a week, are a real national inspiration and will do much toward destroying any division of national interest by sectional feeling."

RICHARD DUNN KILLS SELF IN POLICE CHASE

OAKLAND, June 16.—Rather than be taken by police, Richard W. Dunn, Jr., 1701 Sixty-fourth street, formerly of Richmond took his own life, after a spectacular chase in downtown Oakland yesterday morning. Dunn had been released from jail on an auto theft charge five days before.

As policemen came upon him, crouched in an abandoned garage where he had fled, Dunn placed a gun against his temple and pulled the trigger.

The youth was suspected of robbing an accessory shop a few hours before his suicide and with breaking into an Oakland building, where he was discovered by Patrolman J. H. Healy. Dunn, in a struggle with the patrolman, tore the officer's gun from his holster and fled. He was using an automobile stolen from Clarke Davis of Hayward, according to police reports.

Dunn, the son of R. W. Dunn, proprietor of a sheet metal works has been frequently in trouble according to police and served a term of 22 months in Whittier reformatory school.

LEAK CHARGED IN NAVAL BOARD

WASHINGTON, June 16.—UP—Charges that the navy department has been "leaking confidential information like a sieve" concerning the west coast dirigible base and other matters as well, were made today by Rep. Free, Republican, Cal., who said he intended to "press the matter."

The House naval affairs committee, after a long debate involving charges of these naval information leaks, voted 11 to 8 today to postpone final action as to the location of the base until the December session.

Free made public a letter from navy secretary Adams, agreeing it was "no credit" to the navy if another member of the naval affairs committee had a copy of Admiral W. W. Moffatt's testimony which had been denied to the committee itself. Adams added that he was unable to discover how the testimony got into the hands of Rep. Evans from southern California. Free, however, blamed the leak on Admiral Joseph M. Reeves.

The dirigible base controversy is between Sunnyvale, near San Francisco, and Camp Kearney, near San Diego.

When the house naval affairs committee took up the question, Secretary Adams turned down the request for a copy of the general board report.

Later, however, Rep. Free admitted he had a copy and a full report finally placed before the committee by Sec. Adams showing, according to Free, that it was necessary to locate the base in northern California for military purposes.

Birmingham Still Agog About Limbs

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., June 16.—UP—To most of the world, a leg, whether it is sheathed in silk or wears a garter around its calf, is merely something to get somewhere on.

Not so in Birmingham. The good folks here can't even look at their own.

A few years ago, the Watch Committee, which supervises the city's morals, reached the momentous decision that even tho a leg was a thing of beauty, it has a devastating influence.

Therefore, the bare leg was put in the same category as the witch. Pavlova was compelled to trip over the stage with her famous supports covered with fleshings. Ordinary chorus girls were made to wear tights.

It appeared the city had been saved from perdition. Troupers came back into the cities and told the story. Newspapers poked fun at the sightseeing citizens.

Finally, the committee decided to reconsider its decision. It held a solemn inspection of a bare leg. After recovering from the shock, that it contained nothing vicious the committee generously decided if other persons' legs were attractive, the Birmingham citizens might have a look. It even ignored colored spectacles.

Then the "Mystic Garden" a sideshow of the National Trades Exhibition, displayed as the center of attraction, a rustic bridge in a garden, which, by a mirror arrangement, reflected back the legs of the persons crossing it.

The Watch Committee raised its hands in horror, but said nothing. A police inspector, however, told Don Legat, manager of the show, that unless the bridge was removed, the Watch Committee might close the entire show.

"It was sheer prudery," said T. J. Brookes, owner of the show. "The people could see little more than their knees."

WHITE LEADS IN MAINE RACE

PORTLAND, Me., June 17. (Wednesday), Representative Wallace H. White, Jr., continued to hold his lead over Former Governor Ralph Brewster early today in their race for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator from Maine as the count of votes in yesterday's primary was brought nearer completion.

Returns from 493 of the state's 640 precincts gave the congressman 33,449 votes to Brewster's 27,495, making White's majority 5954 votes.

Early returns last night gave White a majority as high as 11,000 votes at one time, but at 12:30 a. m. today this had been cut as low as 1500 votes.

Stanley Rites Here Tomorrow

Funeral services for the late Albert Thomas Stanley, who passed away at the family home, 148 Twelfth street, Sunday afternoon, have been set for 2:30 tomorrow afternoon from the Ryan Funeral Home. Interment will be at Sunset View cemetery.

Stanley, for the past 19 years operator of a blacksmith shop in Richmond, died after an illness of several months.

Formerly of Oroville, Stanley came to Richmond 19 years ago, and opened a blacksmith shop between Macdonald and Nevins avenues on Fourth street. He was a native of Buffalo, Mo., and was 57 years of age. He is survived by his widow Mrs. Lillian Stanley; three children, Mrs. Clarence Sutliff, Mrs. Robert Allen and Norman Stanley all of Richmond; one grand child Joyce Sutliff, and a brother, William Stanley of Cunningham, Kan. (tribune) race, Dugald B. Dewar, who ran as a "wet" was far behind White and Brewster.

ATTIC LOVER TAKEN TO HOUSE

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—UP—Otto Sanhuber, mild mannered little man accused of murder, today revisited the attic where he is charged with living for years as the secret sweetheart of Mrs. Walburta Oesterreich, widow of Fred Oesterreich for whose death Sanhuber is on trial.

Sanhuber was guarded by a superior court bailiff and accompanied by the jury of six men and six women who will decide his fate when he walked through the darkened dusty chambers where the state charged he reigned as the "attic lover" of the wife of the wealthy garment manufacturer.

Sanhuber, according to the state, crept from the attic the night of August 22, 1922 and shot Oester-relish as the latter was quarreling with his wife.

After the killing Sanhuber locked Mrs. Oesterreich in a closet and crept back to the attic, the state contends. The visit to the house of death visibly affected Sanhuber. The little man trembled as he and the officer to whom he was handcuffed lead the way through the narrow panel opening leading from the lower rooms to the attic. He refused to look at the spot where Oesterreich's body fell and declined to examine a spot in the wall where one wild bullet struck.

Already
3,700 families have said,
"Goodbye forever to furnace drudgery"

They've changed their furnaces
to burn
Natural Gas

it costs
less to use!

With this tiny lever, you start and stop the furnace. It automatically regulates the temperature.

YOUR present furnace, plus a "Conversion Burner" and presto!—the drudgery of furnace tending is changed into automatic, care-free heating.

Then living is easier. Mother won't have to stoke the furnace when father is away. Guests will always be warm and comfortable. No one need interrupt a party to fire the furnace. Your home is more healthful—there is no over-heating, no under-heating.

Change-Over Inexpensive

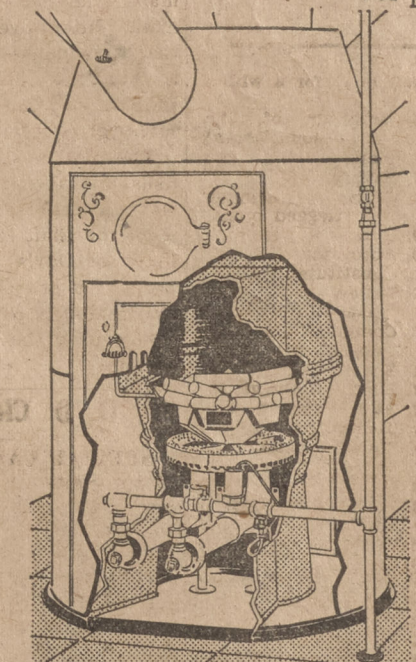

To change your present furnace to burn Natural Gas is easy and very inexpensive. We merely install our special "Occidental Conversion Burner" in the firebox.

Healthful and Safe

Just as the smoke from your present fire goes out the chimney, so the burnt gases from the clean Natural Gas go outdoors through the chimney. The healthful, warm air which heats your home does not come in contact with the burning gas because it passes around the hot outside of the iron firebox.

It is Clean

With the "Conversion Burner," your curtains, your wall-paper, and your furniture retain their fresh cleanliness. There is no soot or dirt.

Cross section view of "Occidental Conversion Burner" in firebox of furnace. Note special refractory bed above burner that glows red hot and keeps heat steady and efficient.

$10 down

Installs an "Occidental Conversion Burner" balance dated Oct. 1 when monthly payments of only $5 may start.

Total price, installed in warm air furnace ready to use, with Thermostat, $110

Many Satisfied Users

After each "Conversion Burner" is installed, the P. G. and E. inspects the burner for proper operation.

Now over 3,700 P. G. and E. customers are entirely pleased with the "Conversion Burner" and the clean, care-free heating. Our best recommendation is—to ask the people who use them.

We Inspect Your Furnace

Before the Pacific Gas and Electric Company installs a "Conversion Burner" in your furnace or boiler, we inspect it to make certain that there are no cracks in the firebox or worn out parts that will handicap the burner.

Natural Gas Costs Less to Use

Natural Gas actually costs less to use—to say nothing of the value to you of the added cleanliness and convenience.

Special Summer Offer

You'll want to use Natural Gas this fall. So we make you a Special Summer Offer—have an "Occidental Conversion Burner" installed now for $10 down and make no further payments until October 1. You receive preferred attention if you order your burner before the fall rush.

For a demonstration of the "Conversion Burner," call at our office, or telephone and a representative will give you full details.

THE WOMAN OF IT

By Marguerite Moores Marshall

For the Class of 1930

JUNE belongs to the graduates, as much as to the brides and grooms—Many a baccalaureate sermon and Commencement address are being poured into the helpless ears of boys and girls—Poured, at least, into one ear—

Even if going out of the other! Far be it from this column to add to the square footage of sermons—Preaching really is not in our line—Even an "address" to graduates is too formal a description of what we'd like to say. Nevertheless, there is something—You see, a "sweet girl graduate" of our own is cramming, for final tests, And her two brothers carried off their diplomas only a few years ago—So it is natural that we have thought, with interest and sympathy, About the younger generation, going "out of the life of school into the school of life"—

To quote the graduation essay's time-worn play on words: What is the best that all you young things can take with you? Where do you go from here—how can you find the right way? You hear a lot, for example, about your chance to make over the world—With what we hope is not undue cynicism, we must point out That the world has withstood the impact of many graduating classes, And continues to do business at the same old stand. From our viewpoint the first sensible suggestion to every graduate Is that he make his own world—concentrate on it—Instead of having the world at large—on his mind.

He has to orient himself.

To work, to love, to happiness, to the preservation of individuality—

Of course, when we say "he" we also mean "she."

As President Kerr Duncan Macmillan of Wells College has just declared:

"For all practical purposes a young woman to-day enters life

"With no more handicaps than her brother.

"For the first time the women have been freed from the restriction of custom and law.

"Given equal training with their brothers and an equal opportunity."

Do boy and girl graduates, then, remember, in the old days, stories.

How the young prince, setting out on his difficult quest,

Was always provided with three charms or talismans.

With the aid of which he conquered the giants, climbed the hill of ice, won the king's daughter?

Curiously enough, J. J., a brilliant lawyer,

(Perhaps because he "used to be a newspaper man himself")

Named three talismans, the other day, when he gave a talk.

What we consider a most useful summary of the sin vs no:

For the Class of 1930, he said, "start out in life with three things:

"Health, education, and a sense of responsibility—

"They've got the last two, but the first—

"Be it one of the three lacking, there will be trouble."

Probably no thoughtful graduate will disagree about the supreme value of health.

Credit the school-and-college cult of sports, for girls as well as boys in recent years, with this:

It has hammered home the importance of physical fitness—

The usefulness and the sheer joy of having a body

Which is so well, so strong, that it responds automatically

To all reasonable demands which work and play make upon it.

As for education, those of the Class of 1930 who worked hardest

Are going to find, from now on, that a trained mind

Is the keenest, most worth-while weapon.

For cutting the steps that lead up to the heights of successful achievement.

Also the really educated beginner, even if he doesn't make much money at first.

May find life reasonably interesting—Since his mind to him is a kingdom is. And he doesn't have to buy every pleasure with U. S. currency.

As for a sense of responsibility, no boy or girl graduate is going to get anywhere without it—

To live on what you can earn, after you're twenty-one, no matter how small your earnings.

To work at what you can get, even if at first you can't get the work you want.

To keep fit physically and keen mentally.

To use your head, as well as your heart, in love.

To marry only when you can afford it without sponging on anybody.

To think straight and for yourself.

To look ahead, to "hold on when there is nothing in you."

"Except the will that says to you, 'Hold on!'"

All this A B C of self-respect no young person ever learns

If devoid of a sense of responsibility.

So, then, may you all start on your quest with these three talismans—

And may you all achieve the Three Best Rewards:

Material success that will keep you from starving or cringing.

Love that will flower and fruit, so long as you both do live.

Happiness that is born of work, of love, of intelligence, of the clear passion for all beauty!

CARPE DIEM

See how the roses grow In May and June!

They waste no time, they know What comes too soon!

So just their bud and stem, Life's sweetness try.

Can we not learn from them— Even you and I?

J. H. WALLIS.

"Daddy, I Haven't a Decent Pair of Stockings to My Name!"

Those robbers who gagged a man and stole 1,500 pairs of silk stockings on Broadway the other day committed a heinous crime—nevertheless, more than one daughter's law-abiding but hard-up father wonders wistfully how they got away with it!

HE'S GOT OUR NUMBER

"If the most reckless jaywalker you had ever seen told the readers of her column how to avoid accidents—" postcards Martin Panzer apostrophizes one of our recent pieces—"what would you say?"

"The woman of it"—of course!

Tourists, it is announced, may now hire women guides in Paris, and feel safe about their bank-rolls. "Then the women guides must all be unmarried," caustically comments the Cold-Digger's Husband.

Oh, Go to Bed

By Eliot Kays Stone

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

AD, what are the A. B. C. powers?"

"They are the three largest powers or nations in South America—Argentina, Brazil, and Chile."

"Why are they called the A. B. C. powers?"

"Can't you think why?"

"Oh, yes, because they know their A. B. C's."

"Oh, go to bed."

THINK IT OVER

By Alfalfa Smith

EACH one of us must have an incentive or we would never get up in the morning for the daily grind.

This is a good thing to remember in regard to the man of the house, who likes variety. Life should never be cat, sleep and go to bed.

Novelty is the spice of life and must be injected into our lives over and over.

Do something different, or life becomes stagnant, and that is death!

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking Nujol, since it works mechanically, and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when Nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

SHOW SHOWS
by WILLARD KEEFE

Copyright 1929, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"Show of Shows," the Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture was the source for the material on which these stories are based.

SYNOPSIS
Leo Hanlon in Hollywood, broke, meets Harry Cronk, his old college pal. Cronk introduces him to Queenie Quinn, script girl at the Warner Bros. Studio. Through Queenie Leo gets a bit in "Show of Shows," the big revue film. He appears with two hundred dancers in a Military Number led by Monte Blue. Leo and Queenie become great friends, on the lot and off.

INSTALLMENT FOUR
Shortly thereafter Leo was to learn that clowning is not the exclusive privilege of the stage hands. He had been cast, to his deep satisfaction, as a member of the mob in John Barrymore's scene from "Henry VI," one of the important items of "Show of Shows." Not only did he advise absent friends by postcards, that he was "supporting Barrymore," but he also oozed such enthusiasm about the lot that he was left ripe for the jesters.

John Barrymore as Richard III.

Crossing the lot one morning, rather self-conscious in his suit of mail, he was stopped by a little fellow who had penetrated himself before him. He seized Leo and drew him closer to him. "Beat it!" he whispered hoarsely. "Quick! Get out of sight." "What?" Leo was appropriately perplexed. "Barrymore—he knows," continued the tiny stranger in the same tragic whisper. "Knows what?" "That you're playing in his scene. He's furious. He's sulking in his dressing room and refuses to come out on the set. He knows you'll steal the picture." "But—but—" It was so unexpected Leo was unable to utter whatever he desired to say, if anything. Suddenly the little man began to walk rapidly away. "Don't forget," he called back. "Barrymore is armed and you are!" He vanished around the corner of Stage 3. A moment later Leo was joined by a young fellow named Leary who had worked with him in the Military Number. Before he could communicate to him his encounter with the mysterious stranger, Leary explained everything to him. "I just saw Sid Silvers take you for a buggy-ride," he laughed. "I got it, too. These suits of armor touch 'em off, I guess. Anyway, why not give them a laugh?" Leo immediately recalled Silvers.

EL CERRITO TO OPEN LIBERTY STREET

Steps toward the opening of Liberty street between Schmidt and Fink Lanes were taken at the meeting of the council of El Cerrito Monday when the council went on record as favoring the payment of $1000 for a sixty foot right of way through the property of H. Hansen.

Councilman Peter Larsen and City Attorney T. H. DeLap were appointed to draw up a contract with Hansen providing the title of the property was clear and they could obtain a right of way thru the property of Michael Murphy between Fink and Moser Lanes.

In consideration of the payment of $1000 Hansen is to remove the buildings on the right of way.

Request made by Ed Gagnon, secretary of the El Cerrito volunteer fire department, that members receive $2.50 for each alarm answered and $1.00 for each drill attended was referred to Fire Commissioner Hans M. Nissen.

On the recommendation of Light Commissioner Ernest O'Brien the council clear up the audit of the books of former Police Judge W. A. Hinds and that the matter be referred to City Attorney T. H. DeLap for one week.

Kaufman stated that one report showed Hinds owed the city about $370 and another showed that $5.00 was due the city.

In answer to W. D. Stark's request for information of whether the city engineer's fee had been reduced since the council increased the salary of city attorney to $100 per month, City Clerk Mrs. Alice Walker informed Stark the ordinance had not been changed which raised the fee of the city engineer from five to six percent.

Stark said that he understood that the fee was raised a few years ago to compensate the city attorney for legal work on street improvements and now that the city attorney's salary has been raised the engineers fee should be reduced.

Councilman Peter Larsen stated while six percent was not very much for a small job that it was too much for a large one and that a sliding scale should be worked out. The matter was referred to City Attorney T. H. DeLap to find out if the salary of $100 provided for legal work on street improvements.

City Clerk Mrs. Alice Walker was instructed to send a bill to the California Construction company for $371 for work done by the city for that concern about a year ago.

Larsen stated that a bill had been presented by Assistant Superintendent of Street B. C. Sacy but no attention had been paid to it.

Application for soft drink permits by Tony Gatto, 17 San Pablo avenue, Henry Malino, El Cerrito Auto Camp, and H. E. Spencer, 139 San Pablo avenue was referred to Chief of Police R. R. Cheek.

New wires for the fire alarm system on Fairmont avenue between Kearney street and San Pablo avenue were ordered installed on the recommendation of Fire Commissioner Hans M. Nissen.

George Rige, 1427 Stockton avenue made complaint to council that city in burning off the weeds near his property had destroyed a number of trees and that he be compensated for their loss.

The matter was referred to Fire Commissioner Hans M. Nissen.

Bids for a six cylinder truck with a three yard body for the street department will be received July 30, according to the action taken by the council Monday night.

Councilman Ernest O'Brien, who voted against the call for bids, stated it would be an uneconomical move as there was not enough work for a truck.

Councilman Peter Larsen informed the council that the street department was behind in its work for lack of the larger truck.

POLICE HEAD OF CHICAGO QUIT

CHICAGO, June 16.—UP— Secret meetings of millionaire businessmen, resignations of the police department heads and sentencing of one of the city's best known gangsters, combined today to establish a momentous epoch in Chicago's 10 year fight against crime.

Hardly had Police Commissioner William Russell and Detective Commissioner John Stege stepped down from office under fire occasioned by the murder of Alfred Lingle, newspaper reporter, when the association of Commerce called a secret meeting to plan the next move in the battle.

Forty-eight of the city's most prominent businessmen met with Colonel Robert Isham Randolph, president of the association. They stayed in session from noon until late in the day. When they filed out, the tall dignified Randolph announced they had accomplished two important things:

Establishment of a definite plan of enlargement of the secret investigations by the Association of criminal activities.

Provision to enlarge the so-called "secret six" committee of the chamber to include 16 civic leaders, empowered to hunt out and prosecute criminals.

Randolph promised that the association would do all in its power to curb murder, bombings, banditry and all the other manifestations of underworld activity before the world's fair here in 1933.

Justice Dennis J. Normoyle of the criminal court co-operated in the anti-gangster move by instructing the June grand jury to investigate the Lingle murder, to go into it deeply, and to turn it over to the extra term if not completed during this one.

Morris Lavine In New Move To Escape Trial

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—UP— Morris Lavine, former newspaper man, today attempted to escape a second trial on a charge of extortion by filing a writ of prohibition to prevent the case from being called again in superior court.

Lavine, accused with Miss Leontine Johnson, of securing $57,000 from Charles Crawford, Los Angeles politician, to keep his name out of stories Lavine was writing about the Julian Petroleum collapse, based his argument on two points.

The writ declared that a new trial would place the former reporter in double jeopardy and that the indictment returned by the grand jury several months ago was vague and faulty.

Miss Johnson, once secretary to S. C. Lewis, was accused on the same charge as Lavine. A jury disagreed, however, when the two defendants were brought to trial.

When tempted to over-indulge

"Reach for a Lucky instead"

Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that modern, ever-youthful figure. "Reach for a Lucky instead."

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Lucky Strike has an extra, secret heating process. Everyone knows that heat purifies and so 20,679 physicians say that Luckies are less irritating to your throat.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

*"Beyond 30 years of age, the mortality among overweights rises rapidly with the age and with the weight," says Dr. Brandreth Symonds in an article in The Medical Record. We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.
